

How to Make a Voki

1. Go to <http://www.voki.com/>. Set up an account. You can set up a teacher account for a fee of $30 a year. The teacher account will allow you to set up multiple classrooms and students can have their voki creation talk for 90 seconds. The free voki account is what I use. I set up a generic account with a generic password. I have all of my students login to this account and make their creations. The student voki creations on this account can only speak for 60 seconds.
2. Once you set up your account and login, you can click on the create button on the top toward the left.
3. A random voki creation will show up. You can use this one, or you can create your own. To create your own click on the head shape in the Customize Your Character section

4. Scroll through the different types of vokis by using the arrow button. Select the one you want. On some of the creations, you can change the hair and clothing by selecting the appropriate buttons on the Customize your Character section. You can drag the Character up or down as well.
5. Once you have selected your character click the X to get out of the Customize your Character section

6. Click on the background Section to choose a different background

7. Adjust any colors of your voki under your character
8. Once you are ready to give the character a voice, click on the phone icon. A number will pop up with a pass code. Dial the number and follow the verbal instructions on the phone. It will tell you when to begin recording. When you have finished recording make sure to record the sound. I have my students save the sound as their name/period.

9. You are ready to select the publish button. I have my students save their creation as their name/period. When it has been saved properly, the voki will show up under my voki.
